

Destinations after Adams College

Our information, guidance and mentoring programme encourages students to complete thorough research to ensure they choose the best path for them, be it university or the world of work.

Here at Adams College, we pride ourselves on laying strong, dynamic learning foundations that students can continue to build upon, whichever path they choose.

Our former students help enormously when students need up-to-date advice on researching future choices. We have created an education page on LinkedIn to enable current students to network with former students all over the world. Simply search for Thomas Adams School and Sixth Form Centre on LinkedIn.com.

Here are a few of our recent alumni:

Francesca – studied English Language and Literature, Psychology and Biology

“Any student can tell you that A Levels are stressful, but until you’re in it, you just don’t know! Without the staff at college, I really could not have got through them! Staff go over and above to ensure you are happy and comfortable with the topics.”

Hannah – studied English Literature, English Language and Graphics

“Since leaving college, I’ve been on a pretty exciting gap year, travelling on my own through South East Asia; first Indonesia, then Thailand. I’m currently in Cambodia, before visiting Vietnam and then Laos! It has been such a life-changing experience and without the help of Thomas Adams College I would never have had the confidence or sense of independence needed for such a big trip. When I’m home I have a place at Leeds University studying Graphic Design, and I’m so grateful to the teachers I had for giving me the motivation.”

Bethany – studied English Language, English Literature and History

“Life after Adams has been full of work and travel for me. I started in Costa Rica and then spent a month travelling up to Mexico. We saw the most amazing sights and met the most wonderful people. We then spent the rest of our time in Peru where we hiked the Inca Trail to Machu Picchu. I would definitely say it was one of the hardest things I’ve done but arriving at Machu Picchu was worth the sweat and blisters!

“I’m now planning to go to university in Portsmouth to study History. I’m really excited and I can’t thank the college enough for helping me prepare. I do miss college, but I can’t wait for this next step. I loved learning and the teachers were brilliant. I just hope the teaching is as good when I arrive at uni!”

Sean – studied English Literature, History and Philosophy, Theology and Ethics

“Adams College's greatest strength, and the reason I look back on my time there with such gratitude, is its remarkable staff, who consistently went to astonishing lengths to support and challenge me, be it academically, or during the process of applying to higher education.
